

Visit Cohousing Communities in Oregon's Willamette Valley — Saturday, April 30, 2016

Corvallis 10:30 AM	The FREE two-for-one tour starts at 10:30 AM at CoHo Ecovillage in Corvallis. It's work-party day, so visitors will see CoHoots in action around our 6.8-acre site. Learn first-hand what it's like living in a caring, sharing community 8 years after move-in. With luck, the sun will be out and you can bask in the beautiful rainbows inside the common house that are lured in by Peter Erskine's unique solar art installation.
Eugene 3:00 PM	Living Eugene! Come by to see the beautiful location for Oakleigh Meadow Cohousing. Our cozy set of 28 homes will be nestled in a meadow, within walking distance to the Willamette River and just a 15-minute ride down the bike path to downtown Eugene. Architectural drawings will show you the building plans. Community members will show you what a great group of people we are! Come and see what we're about!
Corvallis 5:00 PM	Free screening at CoHo Common House of the documentary "Within Reach" about sustainable communities. Check out http://www.withinreachmovie.com for a trailer and more information about the film.
