

Cohousing in Corvallis

An E Newsletter from CoHo Cohousing
Corvallis, Oregon

Issue 25 August 2006

Remember when your best friend lived right next door?

25th Issue of CoHo's E Newsletter—Sharing Thanks

To celebrate the 25th issue of this newsletter, CoHoots shared thanks for their cohousing connections....

Brenda: I am thankful...to Coho for the opportunity to practice open hearted tolerance of differences.

Judy: I am thankful...that as a community we are stronger than we are alone because as individuals we could never have moved ahead. This is a true community effort.

Craig: I am thankful...for people willing to work through difficult issues until resolution comes that works for everyone.

Karen: I am thankful...to CoHo for providing a virtual neighborhood of remarkable people with whom I hope to spend many years sharing great friendships.

Judy: I am thankful...for this community of visionaries who hold the vision in their hearts.

Dennis: I am thankful...for a multi-generational community, where the strengths of every age are appreciated and valued.

Mardi: I am thankful...that I have found a place where I can live for the remainder of my life.

Juva: I am thankful...to people that know me well enough that I can be my imperfect self and still be loved.

Shirley: I am thankful...for the professionalism and attention to detail in building the internal structure of our community.

Mardi: I am thankful... that I have something to contribute to the community that will support me.

Jessica: I am thankful... for friendships.

Anne: I am thankful...for the young children I'll be able to watch growing up. Participating in children's lives is a gift.

Betsy: I am thankful... that the CoHo founders and early members had the commitment and stick-to-i-tive-ness to make this dream happen for all of us.

Juva: I am thankful...for neighbors who know and love my animals, allowing me to go away for a day or two with no worries.

Rob and Jen:
We are thankful...for all
the hard work
CoHo members
have been doing
over the last seven years.

Robert and Marcy: We are thankful...for finding the place and people that we have been dreaming about living with so that our family will be safe and happy.

Jessica: I am thankful...for
home-cooked
dinners
cooked by someone beside me!

Rob and Jen: We are thankful...for the opportunity to live with folks who are striving for harmony with each other, the land, and the broader community.

Mike: I am thankful...that
the community
is bonding well
together with all of the changes that have taken place.

Rob and Jen: We are thankful...for the feeling of living in a positive way that runs counter to many of the negative trends across the American landscape these days.

Susan: I am thankful...that my wonderful neighbors cheerfully collaborated with me on photos and articles for this newsletter, no matter how zany or goofy.

Look for the next issue of this newsletter in September...
